

THOMAS DORNER - AUSTRIA

Thomas Dorner is Associate Professor at the Centre for Public Health, Institute of Social Medicine at the Medical University of Vienna. He has studied human medicine and graduated as master of public health. His lecture qualification theses was written about 'social determinants for health resources, health behaviour, and morbidity, and consequences for social medicine and public health'. Since 2012 he is president of the Austrian Public Health Association (ÖGPH). His main research topics are epidemiology, health care research, social determinants of health, health behaviour and lifestyle, physical activity and health promotion. He is Chairperson of the 9th EPH Conference Vienna 2016.

PAMELA RENDI WAGNER, AUSTRIA

Pamela Rendi-Wagner, MD, is Director General for Public Health and Chief Medical Officer at the Federal Ministry of Health, Austria. She trained at the Medical University of Vienna, specializing in Specific Prophylaxis and Tropical Medicine and at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, UK. As senior lecturer at the Medical University of Vienna, she has been scientifically active at national and international level in the areas of infectious disease epidemiology and vaccine preventable diseases. She is currently visiting professor at the Medical University Vienna and chair of the Federal Office for Safety in Health and head of numerous national committees.

ULRIKE RABMER-KOLLER

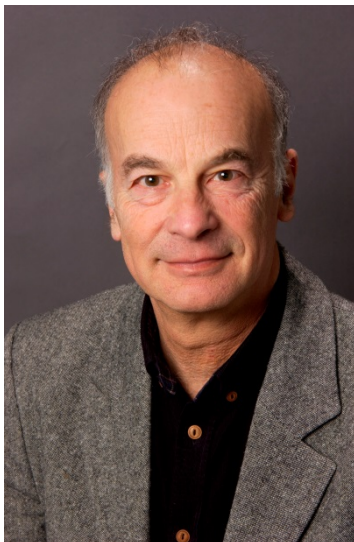

Mag. Ulrike Rabmer-Koller is Chairwoman of the Main Association of Austrian Social Insurance Institutions; Vice President of the Austrian Federal Economic Chamber, Vienna; Vice-President of the European Association of SME; Skilled Crafts and Trades (UEAPME) and Chair of UEAPME, Committee for Sustainable Development.

CHRISTIANE STOCK - DENMARK

Christiane Stock is President of the EUPHA Section on Health promotion, a network of over 1,200 public health professionals. She is Associate Professor and Head of Studies, University of Southern Denmark.

ALLAN KRASNIK - DENMARK

Allan Krasnik is President of the EUPHA Section on Migrant and ethnic minority health, a network of over 1,000 public health researchers, professionals and managers. He is MD, MPH and PhD, Specialist in Public Health and since 1995 Professor at the Department of Public Health, University of Copenhagen, Denmark. He is Founder and Senior Researcher at the Danish Research Center for Migration, Ethnicity and Health (MESU). His main scientific expertise is in health services research with special attention to prevention, health care innovations and reforms and their effect on social and ethnic equity. Since his first studies in 1972, he has taken special interest in the health of migrants and ethnic minorities and participated in many national and international studies on inequalities in morbidity, health care access and outcomes. Presently he is primary researcher in a large, Nordic project on health and welfare among refugee children and adolescents in the Nordic countries (CAGE).