

Media advisory

19th European Public Health Conference 2026

Date: 10–13 November 2026

Location: Euskalduna Conference Centre, Bilbao, Finland

Delegates: 2,500 public health professionals from over 80 countries

Theme: “Urban and global synergies: shaping the future of public health with climate resilience, equity and innovation”

The 19th European Public Health Conference is Europe’s leading annual scientific conference on public health. This year’s theme highlights how investing in health and well-being strengthens societies, drives sustainable development, and builds resilience against global crises.

The conference brings together experts, policymakers, and practitioners to tackle urgent health challenges through evidence, collaboration, and policy innovation.

For journalists, the conference offers direct access to leading public health experts and decision-makers, timely story angles, and in-depth discussions on the issues shaping Europe’s health agenda. It’s an opportunity to engage with new evidence, explore real-world solutions, and connect with the voices driving public health across the continent.

Sub-themes

- Urban and global synergies: shaping the future of public health with climate resilience, equity and innovation
- How do we survive climate change?
- Health systems and climate change
- The city as a catalyst for change
- Providing health equity in urban and rural settings
- Health by design: building healthy minds and bodies

Media logistics

- Media badges are will clearly be marked with ‘press’.
- Journalists have access to plenary sessions and all conference tracks.
- No dedicated press room will be available on site, but a media contact will be present to support ad hoc requests.
- No official press release will be issued ahead of the Conference.

On-site media contact

Natalie de Boer, Communications Manager

n.deboer@euphaoffice.org

Euskalduna Conference Centre or contact via the EPH Conference App